spun vessel

designer: karen gilbert + paul pavlak

Elemental spherical glass vessels covered with a continuous “spun” strand of glass. The two colored options (amber and red) are “cased”, meaning they have an opaque white interior over which the colored transparent glass is layered, for a unique effect. After being blown into shape and covered with the spun glass, each is broken off the glassblower’s pipe and the opening is flame-polished with a torch, making the mouth of each piece slightly different, slightly unique. Available in three sizes and three colors, spun is meant to be displayed both individually and in composed groups and multiples.

available in: amber-AMB white-WHT red-RED
